

ControlByNet's Video Surveillance Solution Catches All the Action at the Atlanta Apartment Association's 2016 Annual Trade Show

ControlByNet Offers Free Video Surveillance Security Audit

ControlByNet's i-flashback CLOUD video surveillance security solution allows apartment managers and owners the ability to monitor one or multiple communities on the most flexible CLOUD based video surveillance system on the market. This centralized access solution for property managers and management companies provides the ability to access multiple communities with one login.

ControlByNet is showcasing the i-flashback Cloud solution in booth 366 at the Atlanta Apartment Association's (AAA) annual trade show and is offering a free video surveillance security audit ($150 value) to all Atlanta Apartment Association member communities that visit the ControlByNet booth on Wednesday, May 18th.

"Many apartment communities have high end community areas including dramatic pool areas, fitness centers, tennis courts and gathering rooms, however they are still relying on antiquated DVR video surveillance technology to secure these sites," said Ryan Strange, CEO of ControlByNet. "We want to help educate users on how solutions like our cloud-based offerings provide a reliable and cost-effective security solution. As part of this education process, ControlByNet is offering a free on site community video surveillance security audit to any community that visits our booth at the Atlanta Apartment Association trade show."

ControlByNet's multi-site, single-login i-flashback CLOUD video surveillance system provides clear live or archived digital video that is accessible at any time, from any mobile device or browser including iPad, iPhone, Android, Chrome, Firefox and Safari. Additionally with no more DVR's and the video evidence safely stored immediately off site, vandals can no longer steal the evidence.

ControlByNet catches all of the action:

- Organization wide solution – single web sign in for multiple properties
- View live or archived video on any device or browser including iPad, iPhone, Android, Chrome, Firefox and Safari
- Video securely stored offsite
- Internet notification of offline cameras, lost connections, power or internet issues
- Ability to slowly convert analog cameras to high definition digital cameras
- Plug and play
- No contracts

The AAA annual trade show is the Southeast's largest show dedicated to the apartment industry and is also one of the largest in the country. The AAA trade show is on May 18 from 1 – 6:30pm at the Cobb County Galleria Centre, Hall C and ControlByNet will be exhibiting in booth #366.
